New obstacles such as daily deal websites compete head to head with traditional retail outlets. Therefore, the retail industry has to constantly strive to stay ahead in the game – by offering superior customer service, while increasing revenue and minimizing operational costs. Enghouse Interactive’s all-in-one, multi channel contact center solution streamlines the customer service process for both agents and consumers.

Consumers expect convenience, and they are likely to take business elsewhere if their demands for efficiency are not met. With the Presence Suite for Retail, consumers can interact with the retailer 24 x 7 via phone, email, chat, SMS, social media, and fax. When visiting a store is not convenient, this allows the customer to conduct a variety of transactions around the clock – place a new order or check order status, perform a return or exchange, or make a payment.
